Brown Named Principal of Veterans High

HOUSTON COUNTY, GA – At today’s board meeting, the Houston County Board of Education appointed Lionel Brown as principal of Veterans High School. The new school will open the first day of the 2010 - 2011 school year.

With the Houston County School System for 15 years, Brown currently serves as an Assistant Principal at Perry High School. Prior to becoming an administrator, he taught social studies and coached at Warner Robins High from 1994 until 2005. He was selected as the Warner Robins High Teacher of the Year in 2000.

A product of the Houston County School System, he graduated from Perry High School. He earned an Associate in Psychology from Macon State College and a bachelor and master degree in history from Georgia College and State University. In addition, Brown received an Administration and Supervision Add-on from Georgia College and State University.

“I am extremely honored to be named principal of Veterans High,” said Brown. “The Board’s support and vote of confidence are greatly appreciated. I am excited about this new opportunity and promise to give 110 percent to the new Veterans High family as we work together to create successful traditions.”

Brown is married to Danielle (Head) Brown, a medical technician at Miller Elementary School. They are the proud parents of Ariel, 14 years old, and Jordan, eight. The family resides in Perry. Brown may be contacted at (478) 988-6298, extension 21305, or lionel.brown@hcbe.net.
