PHS Students Win Awards at Scholastic Art Contest

HOUSTON COUNTY, GA – Six Perry High School students won awards at the regional Scholastic Art Competition held this month at Georgia State University (GSU) in Atlanta. Students submitted work digitally in early November for the contest. A team at GSU judged the work and awarded gold, silver, and honorable mention awards to the best works.

Perry High students won the following:

- Gold Awards: Beth Ellis and Erin Taylor;
- Silver Awards: Allison Burnham and Tiffanie Goad; and
- Honorable Mention: Allison Burnham and Talia Mitchell.

After the digital judging, the student art was shipped to Atlanta to be part of an art display. The two gold award winners, Beth and Erin, will move on to the national competition in New York where they will compete for scholarships and other prizes.

“This is the most students that Perry has ever had accepted to this competition, so we are very excited” commented Perry’s art teacher, Catherine Heller. “We are so proud of these talented young ladies!”

Perry High School is located at 1307 North Avenue in Perry. Dr. Darryl Albritton serves as principal. For more information, please contact Heller at catherine.heller@hcbe.net or (478) 988-6298.
